

ECOVERITAS and 81MASS announce their collaboration for delivering sustainable solutions for the built environment in Europe and Africa.

Pantelis Levantis from ECOVERITAS noted:

We are delighted to collaborate with 81MASS and reach the African built environment developing market. Operating in another continent for us is a great challenge where we will have the opportunity to apply our sustainability and BREEAM expertise along with top class local sustainability experts from 81MASS.

Dimitrios Delivasilis from 81MASS noted:

Collaboration in Europe with Ecoveritas has already been tested and successful. Now 81MASS, operating in the southern Africa market and delivering architecture, sustainability and interior design services, is in a position along with Ecoveritas to deliver world class sustainability certification services such as BREEAM.
